

Artwork by Asmara Carbado

INTERSECTIONALITY

Challenging Theory

Reframing
Politics

Transforming Movements

SAVE THE DATE

MARCH 11-13, 2010

OVERVIEW

UCLA | SCHOOL OF LAW

Since the publication of Kimberlé Crenshaw's formative articles - Demarginalizing the Intersection of Race & Sex (1989), and Mapping the Margins: Intersectionality, Identity Politics & Violence Against Women of Color (1994) - the concept of intersectionality has traversed more than a dozen academic disciplines and transnational and popular political discourse, generated multiple conferences, monographs, and anthologies, and animated hundreds of articles and essays.

In the twenty years since Crenshaw introduced intersectionality, critiques of identity politics and multiculturalism and, more recently, claims of a "post-racial" era have blossomed. In 2010, we will re-visit the origins of intersectionality as a theoretical frame and site of legal interventions and consider its still unfolding potential for unmasking subordination and provoking social change.

WHEN: March 11-13, 2010

WHERE: UCLA School of Law

For information on conference registration:

http://crsonline.law.ucla.edu/CRS_Program/Annual_Symposium/03.11.10

(Copy & paste in browser)

Note: Early registration deadline,
January 25, 2010

Call for Proposals

We are pleased to solicit proposals for individual papers or whole sessions.

The deadline to submit proposals has been extended to January 15, 2010.

For instructions and information on submissions, please visit (copy/paste in browser):

http://crsonline.law.ucla.edu/CRS_Program/Annual_Symposium/03.11.10#Call_for_Proposals

Please submit questions about the event and proposals to: crssymposium@law.ucla.edu

CRS Faculty

Khaled Abou El Fadl * Devon Carbado
Kimberlé Crenshaw * Carole Goldberg
Cheryl Harris * Jerry Kang * Gerard López
Jyoti Nanda * Russell Robinson * Saúl Sarabia

Principal Co-Sponsor

Women & the Law Project at the Thomas Jefferson School of Law

Presenting Co-Sponsors

African American Policy Forum
American Constitution Society
Columbia Law School
LatCrit, Inc.

The Williams Institute

Contributing Co-Sponsors

V-Day
Women's Research & Resource Center at Spelman College

Co-Sponsors

ACLU Women's Rights Project
Ctr. for Global Justice –
Seattle University School of Law
The Ctr. for New Racial Studies at UC Santa Barbara
UCLA Ctr. for the Study of Women
UCLA Department of Women's Studies

Confirmed Participants

Sumi Cho * Cathy Cohen * Sarah Deer * Phillip Atiba Goff
Beverly Guy-Sheftall * Angela Harris * Luke Harris
Melissa Harris-Lacewell * Tanya Hernandez * Nagwa
Ibrahim * Lenora Lapidus * Gail Lewis * George Lipsitz
Catharine MacKinnon * Leslie McCall * Mari Matsuda
Charles Mills * Chandra Talpade Mohanty * Manjula
Pradeep * Beth Richie * Dorothy Roberts * Tricia Rose
Nikhil Singh * Sandra Smith * Dean Spade * Alvin Starks
Miguel Unzueta * Francisco Valdes * Mieke Verloo
Patricia Williams